

John Baskowski, EASTCONN's Chief Financial Officer

John has been EASTCONN's Chief Financial Officer (CFO) since February 2004, overseeing the agency's financial well-being and ensuring the optimal utilization of agency assets, including cash management. A graduate of Central Connecticut State University (CCSU) with a bachelor of science in Finance, John spent two decades in the manufacturing industry, specializing in cost accounting at the world-class manufacturing companies Goodrich Corporation and Spencer Turbine. A mindful shift of direction brought John to Connecticut State University as the Director of Finance and Administration at the System Office in Hartford. From there, John assumed the role of EASTCONN's CFO in 2004. Contact John at jbaskowski@eastconn.org.
