

Triangular Colonial fort similiar to the fort excavated in Jamestown. All forts in the area of Roanoke Island, Port Ferdinando were earthen forts with a wooden palisado. Possibly five forts were built in North Carolina with 12' trees trunks placed vertically on top of a 12' berm.

White-deBry Map, 1590; annotated

